Screenshots of the program

The top screenshot displays a Google Meet interface with a presentation slide titled "STRESS". The slide defines stress as an "Imbalance between demands in your life and resources you have" and includes a diagram of a balance scale with "Resources" on the left and "Demands" on the right. It also lists coping strategies: "Strengthen immunity", "Harness psychological stability", and "Use our intelligence to become part of the solution not the problem". The bottom screenshot shows a slide titled "MENTAL HEALTH" with a central flowchart. It lists factors such as "Lack of infectious disease knowledge", "Lack of physical & mental health knowledge", "Lack of healthy behaviors", "Change in sleep pattern & nutrition", "Economic problems", "Lack of schooling", "Facing great changes & inadaptability", "Lack of /inefficient coping methods", "Excess screen time/impact of social media", "family violence/relationship conflicts/arguments", "Quarantine/isolation/stigma", "Fear about health-self & family", and "Uncertain about future". These factors lead to "STRESS", "ANXIETY", and "DEPRESSION". Both screenshots show a grid of participants and a Windows taskbar at the bottom.

WOMEN EMPOWERMENT CELL

Women Empowerment Cell organized Awareness Program on “MENSTRUAL HYGIENE AND HEALTH” for all the second, third and final year Girl students on 01.11.2021 at 12.15am, Given the multiple challenges that women and teenage girls face, it is evident that promoting menstrual hygiene is more than just a matter of hygiene; it is also a vital task toward protecting women and girls' dignity, bodily integrity, and overall life opportunities. One strategy to enhance menstrual hygiene is to provide health education to girls and women on menstruation and menstrual hygiene. Increasing community awareness in order to improve individual and institutional access to clean, water-filled toilets. Increasing sanitary product availability and use. Allowing for the safe disposal of sanitary products seminar was conducted by Mr.V.M.RAMKUMAR, Advocate cum Social Worker, & Ms.K.MUTHULAKSHMI, Inspector of Police, Tamil Nadu (Rtd) at Aruppukottai.
